- Concerned that culture devalues women/girls and preys upon men/boys?
 - Discover how to live as Godly men in a sexually explicit culture.
 - Discover the sexual lies and distortions of our culture.
- Realize God's design for sexuality, learn about forgiveness and restoration.

If you are concerned about these issues and would like to become part of the solution, join us for a discussion on how to live as godly men in a sexually explicit culture. We will handle these sensitive topics with openness, honesty and compassion. At this event you will come away with tools that will help you live out daily life as a baptized believer.

Note: All men are welcome, but we especially encourage pastors, male teachers, youth leaders, and fathers to attend with their high school age or older sons.

Come and be equipped in your calling as Men of God.

Cost:

Friday evening & Saturday - $59
(includes 1 night lodging and 3 meals)

Saturday only - $29
(includes lunch)

Scholarships are available.

The speaker is Daniel Weiss of The Brushfires Foundation, Inc.

Daniel Weiss is the founder and president of The Brushfires Foundation, a 501(c)3 ministry working to renew a Christian vision of sexuality, relationships, and the human person. As a writer, speaker, and visionary, Daniel is passionate about tackling tough questions about sexual identity, with depth and compassion. He has spent more than a decade helping church and community leaders, educators, and policy makers address complex situations surrounding sexual brokenness with hope and life-giving truth. He previously worked at Focus on the Family and BreakPoint with Chuck Colson. He lives in the Fox Valley with his wife and five children.

Join us for an inspirational and fun week-end event!
We welcome all men high school age and older.

We especially encourage fathers and sons, pastors,
male teachers, and youth leaders to attend.
